

A Message from Robert Blake, Director UC Consortium for Language Learning & Teaching

The UC Consortium for Language Learning & Teaching is pleased to host the fourth SLA conference with its particular emphasis on L2 research and practice being carried out in the UC system. Promoting SLA research is one of the Consortium's four principal charges; curricular articulation, professional development, and outreach are the Consortium's other concerns. We hope that the contacts forged during this conference will both generate and propagate more interest in the SLA field. The Consortium holds this conference biennially at different UC campuses. Dorothy Chun and her home campus of Santa Barbara wish to welcome you to this event. Please join in and follow the Consortium's future activities through our Web site: <http://uccllt.ucdavis.edu/>.
